

NT GeoSTEM Program

Help us engage the next generation of geoscientists in the Northern Territory

AusEarthEd commenced supporting Earth Science education in NT schools in 2021, under our PALMS program.

All our school visits have been conducted by our NT-based earth science educator. The program has been an overwhelming success and demand now outstrips current resourcing. We are seeking sponsorship to increase our engagement and support of primary school students and teachers and to grow this engagement into secondary schools.

5,426 students

engaging in hands-on incursions

381 educators

supported through incursions, mentoring and professional development

90 schools
